"7"- The Experiment. "In a culture where ""more is better"", a $35,000.00 annual income puts one in the economic top 4% of the world's population, and just one more purchase hasn't bought contentment, what can we do? We can stage a mutiny against excess by examining seven areas of our lives: food, clothing, spending, waste, possessions, media, and stress. In each session we will study and commit to one of these areas by limiting ourselves to seven items in that category for one week—a fast from excess. Why? Because when we de-clutter we create space for the Holy Spirit to fill us and transform us to be more like Christ. This study is for anyone who has trouble hearing the still, small Voice gently speaking to them because of the excess in their lives. Women of all ages are invited. There is a time of breakfast and fellowship, discussion and prayer.
